Family Dollar makes positive move

by Marvin McLwain, Editor

In recent months, there have been a lot of negative things happening in the Elba area; however, in the past few weeks a lot of good things have been happening as well.

Last week, this reporter observed the beginning of a very positive statement being made about Elba and its future - the site preparation for a new Family Dollar Store is very much underway.

Motorists and pedestrians alike have had to be alert while passing through the area where Claxton Avenue, Farris and Adkinson streets intersect. Heavy trucks and earth-moving equipment have been busy moving fill dirt onto the vacant lot where a new 8,000-square-foot building will soon be erected to house Family Dollar.

Mack Wise, the developer who is constructing the new facility, stated that the new building will provide Family Dollar with about one-third additional floor space than they have in their present store located near the old Big Bear.

Wise stated that plans call for the new facility to be ready for occupation by mid-August and not later than September 15th.

"They [Family Dollar] never gave any thought to moving or relocating anywhere else than their present location," said Wise. "You've got to be where the business is going on and where it is convenient."

Family Dollar was one of the very first businesses to reopen after the March '98 flood. According to Wise, the owners of Family Dollar never considered moving from Elba or moving from the near-downtown area.

"They [Family Dollar] never gave any thought to moving or relocating anywhere else."

Mack Wise

Although Wise resides in Luverne, his roots run deep in Elba. He was born and raised here and his family, mother and father - John B. and Jeanette Wise - still have their home in Elba.

Expressed a desire to locate in a building in the same area of the new Family Dollar. He added that the lot is large enough to accommodate two additional buildings the same size as the building planned for family Dollar and no one would be cramped for room (parking space).

"We, the developer, and Family Dollar Stores, feel that we are making a very positive statement about the future of Elba by stepping out in this joint venture of building a new facility," stated Wise. "We have faith in Elba and its people. There's a lot of tradition in this town."

Wise also stated that he is dealing with another business which has

ELECTION SPURS BRIEF DISCUSSION

Commission okays back-up computer

by Marvin McLwain, Editor

The Coffee County Commission's regular bimonthly meeting Monday dealt with several "routine" matters and lasted less than one hour.

Commission Chairman Robert Stephens' opening remarks were about Tuesday's Democratic and Republican primaries.

He thanked the probate judge, his staff and Phil Rugg's staff for the manner in which they handled the election. Stephens added that the air conditions were in and would be installed in the rural voting houses as

"With new machines and everything, I think they did a very fine job," Stephens commented. "We had very few hitches. The only objections voiced to me were about having to make a choice about your ballot."

The chairman made it clear that declaring whether or not one will vote in the Democratic or Republican nominating process is the state law and is not determined at a local level.

Chairman Stephens read to the commission a letter from the Choctawhatchee, Pea and Yellow Rivers Watershed Management Authority (CPYRWMA).

The letter was in reference to the authority and U. S. Army Corps of Engineer's recommendation on the "improvement and enhancement" of the Flood Warning System.

The authority and Corps asked for approval from the commission to install a back-up computer center in a central location - the Coffee County Emergency Management office - to receive incoming data on rainfall and river stages throughout the basin. There are already centers located in Elba and Geneva. This third center will provide a "high and dry" location.

The only direct cost to the county will be the small cost of electrical power to run the computer. Commissioners unanimously gave their consent.

Estus Walker, executive director of the CPYRWMA, also informed the commission that the Corps will soon be upgrading the Flood Warning System, which was reevaluated after the '98 flood and a need for improvements was discovered.

The project will cost more than $100,000.

County Engineer Randy Tindell gave the commissioners a brief update on several on-going projects. He reported resurfacing on Co. Rd. 625 should begin this week. Co. Rd. 537 should prime, culvert nearing completion on Co. Rd. 228, grade & drain on Co. Rd. 711 is underway, reconstruction of Co. Rd. 206 should begin within the next couple of weeks, advertising for annual asphalt placement bids that will level Co. Rds. 552, 494, 437, 349, 223, 235, & 209 and resurface and/or pave Co. Rds. 114, 105, 537.

In the "general business session from commissioners," Commissioner Kayo Lewis expressed appreciation for the assistance of State Senator Dwight Adams and State Representative Garrett Moore in acquiring IA (Industrial Access) Funds (grant).

$112,000.00, for the recent work done on Co. Rd. 114.

Commissioner Doug Dalrymple sought and received the commission's approval to waive the landfill tipping fee to the contractor clearing the debris from the renovation site at the Enterprise Nursing Home.

During the discussion of this request, several members of the commission expressed their concern of a precedent being set by this action.

None of the commissioners objected to "helping" the nursing home facility, but were concerned about giving a break to a "private contractor," Dalrymple pointed out the fact that the Authority recently waived six months of rent at the facility housing the county's adult day care center; however, this was because the county was funding several physical improvements to the building in return.

Following the meeting, Commissioner Dalrymple contacted a member of the Enterprise Nursing Home Authority and was told the project would be bid both ways - with the contractor paying the tipping fees and not paying the fees.

Finally, the commission in a 4-3 vote, tabled replacing and/or repairing air condition units in several offices in the County Complex until the cost of the project could be reviewed.

As a footnote, Commissioner Bernest Brooks, in response to the displeasure expressed by some in having a declare, which primary election they would vote in, the possibility of an "open primary" (allows crossover voting in the primary election) could possibly be looked into and see how it works.

The next meeting of the commission will be held on Monday, June 29, at 6:30 p.m. in the Community Room located in the County Complex in New Brockton.

Other matters of business acted on by the commission consisted of:

Accepted the low bid of $535,534.00 from The Thompson Tractor Company for a compactor to be used at the county landfill.

Granted a one-year extension on the plat approval for Wynfield Place Subdivision located at the intersection of AL Hwy. 51 and Co. Rd. 266.

Approved the engineer's request to send out bids for cleats for the landfill compactor.

Signed resolutions setting the speed limit at 25 m.p.h. in the Sleepy Hollow Subdivision and

Whitworth challenges Primary election activities

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

A challenge to the recent Democratic primary election has been filed with the Coffee County Democratic Committee. Sheriff candidate R. W. (Ronnie) Whitworth submitted a formal contest of the election process and the vote count after narrowly losing the election to incumbent sheriff Ben Moates in the June 2nd Democratic primary election. Since there is no Republican or independent candidate for the office, winning the nomination assures election in the November general election.

The contest was filed on Monday, the last day for filing such challenges to the June 2nd election. Sheriff Ben Moates, who had been declared the winner by 61 votes and certified by the Democratic Executive Committee, was officially informed of the contest at 3:45 Monday afternoon by longtime Coffee County Democratic Party Chairman Jackson W. Stokes.

Whitworth said in his contest claim that he was contesting the election because of 1) miscalculation and mistake in counting 2) Miscalculation or mistake on the part of the inspectors, clerks, markers, returning officers, board of supervisors, and canvassers in the counting and certifying the votes 3) Miscalculation or mistake requires that a recount of the votes be conducted 4) Illegal votes were allowed to be cast for Ben Moates... and R. W. Whitworth should be declared the nominee 5) Proper votes cast in the election would be sufficient to declare R. W. Whitworth the nominee for the Democratic Party.

The challenge to the election requests that the Democratic Executive Committee declare that he (Whitworth) received the majority of the legal votes cast in the election and then declare him to be the nominee for the office of Sheriff of Coffee County.

Stokes said the committee has 20 days to hold a hearing on this matter, but it shouldn't take that long. He explained that he would appoint a committee of four members of the Democratic Executive Committee within a week to serve with him in hearing this contest. Following the hearing, either of the candidates (presumably the loser in the hearing) has the option of accepting the ruling of the committee or taking the matter to court.

Whitworth said Tuesday afternoon. "There are questions which need to be answered and I couldn't find anyone who could answer them and with the deadline for filing this contest only hours away, I had to take immediate action."

The challenger continued with "I am not accusing anyone of wrongdoing, but there were natural mistakes made which could have cost me the election and I am still seeking some answers." He declined to describe the "miscalculations and mistakes" he is claiming in his formal charge. Mr. Whitworth explained that when this contest is formally heard, he will have to produce evidence and have witnesses to the claims in his complaint.

The official vote in the June 2nd Coffee County Sheriff's race was Ben Moates 2,001 and Ronnie Whitworth 1,940. These two men were the only candidates for the office.

Moates is completing his first term in the office of sheriff.

Strong winds causes problems to more than 10,000 SAEC electrical customers

Last Friday afternoon, strong winds caused major damage to South Alabama Electric Cooperative's electric system and at times left approximately 10,000 SAEC accounts without power in Coffee, Pike and Crenshaw counties.

The Cooperative's ability to respond to the widespread outages was assisted by the new Automated Outage Reporting System (AORS) which was placed on-line in April of this year. Over 2,000 calls were handled by the customer response center during the course of the outage.

The system's ability to recognize service locations from the phone number calling allowed employees to determine where outages were occurring and dispatch crews more efficiently to restore power to the damaged areas.

"This was the first major test for the Automated Outage Reporting System at South Alabama Electric," Ronald Wade, manager of engineering and operations, said. "We were able to leave messages for members calling to let them know about the substation outages as well as to keep them Grimes announced that at this time there was no official action to take on the matter discussed during the closed portion of the meeting."

The council approved applying for a zero interest loan from Alabama Electric to fund the purchase of the proposed new fire truck.

The council approved working with JWM Engineering of Luverne to secure grants to help recycling and to resurface the airport runway. Monthly bills totaling $56,519.31 were approved for payment. Grimes said that $32,097.02 of the total was for regular city expenses while $24,422.29 of the amount was directly related to flood repairs and would be reimbursed by FEMA.

City Clerk Donnie Morrow presented the council with a request from a citizen who wanted the city to tear down an old building for him. While the city has an ordinance to cover such action, no cost has yet been established. Mayor Grimes said they were also working with FEMA to get some federal funding to demolish flood damaged buildings. The council tabled any action on this request.

The council voted to rescind the flood damage control ordinance passed in January and submit it to the planning and zoning board for approval before allowing it to become law.

Grimes told council members that the city's share of the Corp of Engineers ongoing project to upgrade the levee will be $149,200 and must be paid by July 1st.

Low bid (or the only bid) for repairing and remodeling the city hall was $93,400. Hammer Construction Co., of Sanson, who has been doing the emergency repair work was the only bidder on the project.

City Attorney Jeff Kelley received council approval for bond attorneys for the federal grant/loan for upgrading the sewer system. The legal service agreement has now been signed by Mayor Grimes.

With Ferrin Cox

Albert Reeves was buried last week. It seems like yesterday that he was giving National Guard troops a hard time as First Sergeant of the local guard unit. Sgt. Reeves was a nice guy, we knew he was having some health problems, but his death caught us by surprise. While we never served in the National Guard with him (or anyone else for that matter) we got to know him very well and considered the man our friend. He will be missed.

It is good to see some rain coming our way for a change. However, the fields have gotten so dry since the rains of March that it is still going to take more of the same to give our farmers the relief they need to make a crop.

Election cross-overs are big topics of conversation these days and we expect to see a bunch of folks doing that in the run-off ... but not this of boy. A person could probably get away with doing just that, but if, just if, someone files a challenge to the election because of the crossovers, this is one person who will not be a witness nor a defendant!

There is more new construction going on in downtown Elba. There is a front page story about the new building being built for Family Dollar, across the street from their present location. Once that is completed, we are assured work will resume on remodeling and reopening a larger, expanded grocery store in the shopping center.

One of the nicest, most encouraging things seen in downtown Elba recently is the planting of flowers in the flower boxes at the Elba post office. Those things had been abandoned for the past several years after former Postmaster Bill Bullard retired from the office. Now our new postmaster and rural carrier Tom Tindal have been seen preparing the soil, spreading the fertilizer and planting some flowering plants. We suggest you stop by and admire the new plants and also express your appreciation to those who did the work.

Jim Driscoll has been named Chief of Staff for the Alabama wing of the Civil Air Patrol. The announcement was made last week of May at the annual conference of the Wing. In this new position Jim will be responsible for the day to day operation of the Wing, reporting directly to the Wing Commander. He has been serving as commander of the Elba Civil Air Patrol unit, a position which will now be held by Mike McGuire. Now there is a good side of this for all our coffee drinkers ... If this new job will keep Driscoll busy, we can talk ... and hear about something other than airplanes and flying!

Troy State University will retain that name. After several years of discussions, poll taking and more discussions, the announcement made last week that the school will not change its name was received with cheers from an active group of students, teachers and graduates. That overshadowed the open discussion to moving the athletic department up to the same class with Alabama and Auburn "because we are losing students." Hopefully, the majority of folks attending Troy State are not there because of the football team! The best thing heard on that subject this week was the head of the Dothan branch of Troy State saying something like ... he wasn't interested in sports, just wanted to improve the educational offerings at the facility. Now that is a man singing my song!

Special contributions of Alabama's two-year colleges

by
Dr. Fred Gainous, Chancellor
Ala. Dept. of Postsecondary Education

Alabama's two-year colleges prepare the 75 percent of our citizens who will not earn a baccalaureate degree so they can become effective, contributing citizens and members of the work force, whether they come directly from high school or come as adults seeking retraining or upgrading of skills.

The nature of the work force as we enter the 21st century can be summed up in one word - "technician."

The occupational history of the state as it has affected the vast majority of our citizens has gone from farmer to laborer to clerk to technician. In the nation right now, one in every four new jobs goes to a technical worker. Very soon, technical workers will represent 20 percent of the national employment, and their numbers will continue to grow.

Alabama's two-year colleges are uniquely positioned to provide the kind of education that will produce technicians to build the state's labor force. Broad-technology technicians will be the glue for the future's labor force in Alabama. Individuals who understand underlying principles, and who have the ability to apply what they have learned, will be the core of the labor force. These individuals will be generalists, with specific practical skills to address day-to-day challenges in the work place. These broad-technology technicians will be the key ingredient in the new, amorphous, virtual organizations which more and more characterize business organizations of the coming century - business organizations which, incidentally, have very little room for MBA's and middle-level managers. Of the 20 fastest growing occupations, all require education beyond high school, none are low skill, and only three require a baccalaureate degree for entry. Nearly all require a broad-based understanding of technology. Sometimes the image of the "technician" that pops into people's minds entails keyboards and screens, programming procedures, robots and gadgets. But another reason that Alabama's two-year colleges are such a unique asset to the state of Alabama, is that two-year college staff understand that this isn't the right image at all.

Certainly those kinds of things are part of the education of the labor force, but the real image which would come to mind is people. Being a technician involves understanding technology, but to quote business guru Tom Peters - "It's About Services!"

Currently 96 percent of those employed are in the services sector of the economy. Seventy-nine percent of all employees in the nation now work in the official service sector of the economy (transportation, retail, entertainment, professional services, etc.), while an additional 17 percent who are involved in service work (design, engineering, finance, marketing, sales, distribution, purchasing, etc.) are employed in the manufacturing sector.

Nobody is well educated, and nobody is going to be a successful part of the labor force who fails to work effectively with other people. So, a generous sprinkling of the so-called "people skills" must go into preparation of students. For years, two-year colleges, in Alabama and nationally, have been famous for their ability to provide a more student-centered learning environment - working with people. Two-year colleges have long trained technicians in teamwork, in interpersonal communication skills, and in working with people.

Another area in which two-year colleges make a special contribution to our state is in teaching people to deal with change. With traditional definitions of worker competence being shattered, with traditional styles of business organization literally disappearing, with global competition and with corporations spanning the globe, what was once a secure, predictable work place no longer exists.

Business leaders like Tom Peters and Stephen Covey openly state that there is no such thing as job security in the "one-company-for-life" sense of the term anymore. This is a frightening prospect to many people. It challenges their need for stability. Two-year colleges teach students to anticipate change as a constant. Students are encouraged to embrace change - not shrink from it, and to understand that change can be invigorating and necessary.

The three R's of education - reading, rising, and arithmetic - have now been joined by the three C's - computing, critical thinking, and capacity for change. It is because the capacity for change is so critical to our students that skills such as problem-solving, abstract reasoning, interpretation and synthesis of information, and the application of knowledge to problems have become essential survival skills.

Two-year colleges realize that if we can teach students to think in terms of understanding connections and relationships as their bag of tools, and their ability to apply what they know as their most important skill, we will have helped prepare them for the virtual business reality in which they must live. In summary, Alabama's two-year colleges are the key to our survival as we face the future. They are the bridge for our population from here to the next century. They are the most important entity preparing broad-technology technicians for our labor force. They are the best vehicle for imparting "people skills" to our labor force.

Coffee County's D.A.R.E. Program has good year

The Coffee County Sheriff's Department's sponsored D.A.R.E. (Drug Alcohol Resistance Education) Program recently graduated 170 students in the county system's three schools.
Sheriff's D.A.R.E. Officer Donny Farris has taught D.A.R.E. classes in Zion Chapel, Kinston and New Brockton elementary schools for the past three years when the program was implemented jointly by the sheriff's department and county school system.

In the past three years, 450 students have received the benefits of educational classes which increased their awareness of the potential dangers involved in the use of alcohol and drugs.
This year, those graduating, in addition to receiving diplomas, were presented with D.A.R.E. t-shirts and sports bottles.
Officer Farris said, "I'm already looking forward to working with the next group of students under the modified school calendar."

Melissa played in a girls softball tournament over the weekend in Enterprise, and was dog-tired by the time the tournament got over. However, as tired as she was after being at the park for almost 14 hours, Melanie and her cousin Hannah were just as tired after playing, running up and down a big hill, and watching the many games for the same length of time. The team won the tournament and everyone was happy, but there were some mighty tired folks of all ages when the final out was called.

Dusting off the desk....

The Starzz softball team, from the Elba "16 and Under" girls softball league, competed in the annual Enterprise Youth Softball Tournament last weekend and failed to allow a single run in four straight games to bring home the championship trophy. The fact the Starzz won their games by scores of 28-0, 10-0, 10-0 and 11-0 was impressive, especially since all the games were stopped in five innings or less. However, the fact that the girls allowed no runs in all the games, and never even allowed a runner to reach third base, was simply amazing. The girls may win a lot more games as the summer rolls along, but last week they accomplished a feat that is simply unheard of in slow-pitch softball. Good job, Starzz!

The Elba Dixie Youth Baseball League will close out its season in just a matter of weeks, and it became official last week that history would be made in July, when at the District Dixie Youth meeting in Ozark, it was announced that the Elba Nationals would be the host team for the upcoming Sub-District baseball tournament, while the Elba Americans would also compete in the six-team event at Legion Field. The Nationals will consist of the three Elba teams and the Rays, from Zion Chapel, while the Americans will include players from the three New Brockton teams, and the Brewers, from Zion Chapel. Having the league's best players split into two teams certainly will not make the teams any stronger, but it will make twice as many players happy when they are named All-Stars.

While on the subject of All-Stars, the voting for the various All-Star teams in softball and baseball will take place in the next two weeks, and as always that will mean some upset players and parents. Please remember that while every one cannot be an All-Star, it doesn't mean that a player is not any good. The coaches sit down and try their best to pick the best possible team, but it is impossible to put every deserving player on the team. Picking All-Stars is one of the jobs the coaches hate the most, however, it is something that is done in towns all across the nation each and every year, and just a part of growing up for millions of youngsters. Congratulate the players that make the teams, and assure those that don't that they are still very good players and can make the All-Stars in years to come if they keep working hard and keep playing ball.

The Elba High Tigers saw their 1998 football schedule take an unexpected turn last week when it was announced that Florida had decided not to sign a contract for the next two years. It was thought that Florida was a lock on the schedule, but Coach David Sikes stated that apparently something happened that changed the coaches' minds down in Florida. Chances of finding a tenth game? According to Sikes, not very good.

Girls softball leagues going full blast this season

The Girls Softball League was in high gear last week with action in all four age divisions.

Following are highlights of last week's action:
The Alley Cats scored runs in bunches to down the Hill Cats 13-4. Amanda Pope, Kayla Kelley, Stephanie Baxley and Elena McCormick all got 3 hits for the Alley Cats, while Brittany Hudson added 2 hits. Summer Strickland and Leslie Flowers both got 2 hits for the Hill Cats.

The Battle Cats pulled ahead early and rolled to an 18-7 win over the Wild Cats. Lyndsay Tillery got 3 hits to lead the Battle Cats, while Anna Bryant and Whitney Mack both added 2 hits, and Tori Stone scored 3 runs. Tessa Lee got 3 hits to lead the Wild Cats, while Stephanie Corder and Arrian Bowes both added 2 hits, and Kayla Byrd scored 2 runs on the teams.

The Seawolves jumped on top early and coasted in with a 15-3 win over the River Dogs. Melanie McGlothen and Brittany Mobley both got 3 hits and scored 3 runs to lead the Seawolves. Devri Kilcrease and Rachel Bludworth both got 2 hits for the River Dogs.

The Snappers outscored the Crickets 16-15. Tierney Starks, Lanchessa Cross and Marissa Bludworth all scored 3 runs for the Snappers. Kayla Kysar scored 4 runs for the Crickets, while Kishanna Cole and Corlin Lee both scored 3 runs, and Lyndsay Sikes and Erica Daniels scored 2 runs each.

The Alley Cats staged a late rally to sneak past the Wild Cats 6-4. Stephanie Baxley got 3 hits and Brittany Hudson added 2 to lead the Alley Cats, while Casey Medlock and Tessa Lee both got 2 hits for the Wild Cats.

The Starzz jumped out to a big early lead and rolled to a 21-5 win over the Seawolves. Vaughan Boyd and Melissa Mularz both got 3 hits for the Starzz, while Kendra Vaughan, Lyndsay Sikes, Tara Grant and Leslie Stinson all added 2 hits. Melanie McGlothen got 2 hits for the Seawolves.

The Hill Cats pulled ahead early and held on to down the Battle Cats 18-6. Krystan Parker, Summer Strickland, Leslie Flowers, Melanie Mularz, Heather Reeves, Emily Driggers and LaShae Smith all got 2 hits for the Hill Cats, while Katie Richardson and Kelly Chesborough got 2 hits each for the Battle Cats.

The Lookouts used two big innings at the plate to sneak past the Renegades 10-7. Emily Paul and LeAnn Pridgen both got 2 hits for the Lookouts, while Ogburn, Estrada and Loman all got 2 hits for the Renegades.

The Starzz pulled ahead early and held on late to lead the River Dogs 18-6. Vaughan Boyd got 3 hits for the Starzz, while Kristen Bowden and Lindsey Jared both added 2. Devri Kilcrease and Rachel Bludworth both ripped triples for the River Dogs.

Starzz are stars of Enterprise softball classic and bring home winner's trophy in diamond action last weekend

The Starzz, of Elba, competed in the Enterprise Youth Softball Classic last weekend and rolled to four straight shut-out victories to bring home the championship trophy in the "16 and Under" division.

The Daleville Marlins placed second in the 12-team event, followed by the Geneva Cardinals in third and the Enterprise Rockies in fourth.

The Starzz opened tournament play on Saturday morning and broke loose in the fourth inning to bury the Silver Bullets, of Enterprise, 28-0.

The Starzz jumped out to an early 3-0 lead on a home-run homer by Michelle Lewis, extended its lead to 13-0 by the end of the third inning behind the hitting of Roshanda McKinnon and Katie Vaughan, and then pushed 15 runs across the plate in the fourth inning to post the 28-0 win. The big fourth inning fireworks were ignited by Raean McCollough and Lindsey Jared, both with two hits in the inning.

The Starzz continued to shut out all challengers as it blanked the Daleville Marlins 10-0, in five innings. Consecutive hits by Melissa Mularz, Leslie Stinson and Roshanda McKinnon ignited a six-run second inning that put the Starzz in command, and the Elba girls rolled to the quick win. Melissa Mularz and Roshanda McKinnon both got 2 hits to lead the Starzz at the plate, while Mularz and Starzz defense handcuffed the Cardinals on only one hit.

County BOE makes personnel changes

by Marvin Mellwain, Editor

Last Thursday's regular monthly meeting of the Coffee County Board of Education was more of a hiring marathon than a meeting.

According to Superintendent Roger Bowden, after accepting two low bids on a walk-in cooler and floor covering, the majority of the meeting dealt with the hiring of personnel.

Southeast Restaurant Co. was awarded the bid for a walk-in cooler at $12,500 and Wiregrass Floor Covering will install carpet and tile at the Kinston Elementary School for $20,287.56.

The board members then turned their attention to hiring personnel and accepting resignations. After a brief discussion as to how to go about the process - vote on each individual or the group as a whole - board members reviewed each of the superintendent's recommendations individually and took action.

The irony of the whole thing was that ALL of the superintendent's recommendations were accepted by the board. The following is a list of the action taken regarding professional personnel:

- Accepted the resignation of Stanley Walker as principal of New Brockton High School. He has been in the education field for 33 years.
- Accepted the resignation of William Lovrich as science teacher and coach at New Brockton High School.
- Accepted the resignation of Carin Hughes as business education teacher at New Brockton High School.
- Employed Dr. Linda Ingram as administrative assistant to the superintendent.
- Employed Dr. Irma Townsend as principal of New Brockton Elementary School.
- Employed Richard Littleton as principal of Zion Chapel High School.
- Employed Dale Kelley as principal of New Brockton High School.
- Employed Pam Phillips as science teacher at Kinston High School.

- Approved voluntary transfer of Jennifer Sanders from first grade teacher at Kinston Elementary School to librarian at Kinston school.
- Approved voluntary transfer of Sonya Shaw from her position as English teacher at Zion Chapel High School to that of English teacher at Kinston High School.
- Employed Genelle Swett as first grade teacher at Kinston Elementary School.
- Employed Julie Martin as first grade teacher at Kinston Elementary School.
- Employed Ina Littleton as JTPA teacher at New Brockton High School.
- Approved the transfer of Connie Boland from senior high science teacher at New Brockton High School to junior high science teacher at the same school per her request.

In support personnel, the board accepted the resignation of Marlin Mobley as custodian at Zion Chapel High School.

updated on the restoration progress.

The system also allowed members to receive call-backs so that we could determine if all the problems in a particular area had been cleared up."

Max Davis, general manager of the cooperative, agreed. "We had employees manning the office all weekend, but the new Automated Response Center was a welcomed addition," Davis said. "We really appreciate all of our members' willingness to use the new system and are pleased at how well it kept our members informed about the status of outages in our area."

"We know a few members experienced busy signals and some left messages for our employees. I just want everyone to know that your messages were heard and responded to. While you never want to see this kind of damage, it's going to happen and we want our members to know that we will be prepared to handle it whenever it arises."

Anyone who is still experiencing problems or needs more information about the AORS should call the Cooperative's office at 1-800-556-2060.

WORK IS NEARING COMPLETION on the Caroline Street bridge which has been closed since the March 8th flood damage caused by the raging Beaver Dam Creek. FEMA funds were used to repair the bridge following the 1990 flood, there was disagreement with the feds over repair standards following the high waters of 1994 and damage was severe following the flood of this year. City officials assure this newspaper that repair efforts this time are directed at preventing this continuing water damage problem.

Loan No.: DL-B-409083007

On May 28, 1990, Edwin C. Lowery, Jr. and William A. Oggs, Jr., as President and Secretary, respectively, of Martin's, Inc., an Alabama corporation executed and delivered to the U.S. Small Business Administration, an agency of the United States, a Mortgage on certain real estate located in Coffee County, Alabama. Further, all right, title and interest of the Mortgagors, in and to the 10' alley on the West side of the above described lots.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the terms "SBA," "Small Business Administration," "U.S. Small Business Administration," "Small Business Administration," "Agency of the United States of America," and "Administrator of the United States of America" are the same and synonymous, and that the real party in School Board promotes Stokes, names Weeks as new high school principal

The Elba City School Board moved with little discussion last Thursday to approve major administrative changes for the coming school year.

David Stokes was transferred from the position of high school principal to the central office where he will fill a newly created position of Federal Programs/Technology Coordinator.

Superintendent Charles Pearce has assured school board members that this position

Stokes will save the school system money and insure that the ongoing aggressive move into modern technology will keep going forward.

Named to replace Stokes as high school principal was assistant principal Danny Weeks.

The board did not name an assistant principal at either school. Pearce said he had planned to make a recommendation for the elementary school alone and the interview before announcing his decision. Mickey McCollough was named principal at the elementary school at an earlier meeting.

Another teacher submitted resignation papers at this meeting. Carolyn Tyson, a long time teacher at the elementary school had been offered a position in Mobile, according to the superintendent, the board accepted her resignation with regrets, citing her excellent record with the Elba school system.

Pearce explained to the board that the schools are using a "team interview" method to recommend teachers and it has worked well. He said there have been 24 of these interviews by the committee at the elementary school alone and the interviews have turned up some mighty good people seeking teaching positions.

The board approved the monthly financial statement, with Pearce commenting that the general fund balance was about like projected at the beginning of the year.

Public budget hearings will be held on July 7th and 9th. That is on Tuesday and Thursday. These public hearings are a new requirement which all local school boards must hold. The hearings will each be at 6:45 p.m. in the office of the superintendent. There will be forms available showing revenues and expenditures.

The board approved accepting a $75,000 EWP grant to fund erosion control on the campus. It will be matched with $25,000 of FEMA funds from the March flood damages and $5,000 of RC&D funds. The school board will furnish the balance of the estimated $200,000 project cost.

To fund the erosion control, spend an additional $10,000 on the ball fields, paint exterior metal on the schools and repaint some interior walls at a cost of $10,000, plus some additional capital projects be planned, Pearce plans to "leverage" state Public School Funds (PSA) until the $516,000 capital outlay bond money approved by the Alabama Legislature becomes available in January. At that time the PSA account will be repaid. Pearce explained that all this work needs to be done this summer, while students are not on the campus, for safety reasons. Otherwise, they could just wait for the bond issue funds to be available in 1999. Many schools will use those bond issue funds to replace temporary classrooms, but Elba has none of those and therefore will be allowed to do other capital improvement projects.

RETIRED SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER Bob Robertson, right, is shown accepting a plaque for his ten years service on the Elba School Board. Presenting the token of appreciation at the conclusion of Robinson's final meeting on June 11th is Superintendent Charles Pearce.

The trial for an Elba police officer, did not take place on Tuesday, June 9, as planned.

Michael Patrick, 44, was set to go to trial on two misdemeanor counts of theft by deception; however, the charges were dismissed by Circuit Judge Thomas E. Head on technicalities.

The judge took the action after District Attorney Mark Fuller informed the court that each of the two complaints against Patrick contained a defect.

The original complainant, Baneroff Cooper, owner of Elba

Pawn and Gun, immediately signed new complaints and warrants were issued for Patrick.

The complaint alleges that Patrick pawned two vehicles which he did not legally own for money. The amount of money involved in the each of the transactions is $150.00.

Officer Patrick, the fifteen-year veteran, remains on suspension from the Elba Police Department until the matter is resolved.

No new court date has been set this time to hear the case.

Westbrook recognized as top manager by his peers

A native of Elba was recently recognized by his peers as a top manager.

Todd Westbrook, formerly of Elba, has been selected by the Hi Tech Valley Council, member of the National Management Association (NMA), to receive the 1998 Manager of the Year Award for the Huntsville, AL area.

The criteria for receiving this award is to be an executive whose leadership, integrity, and management skills have profoundly, visibly, and favorably influenced the outstanding performance of a key element of the American business industry, government, or non-profit activity so as to set the person apart among contemporaries.

Westbrook was presented the award on June 4, during the observance of Management Week, June 1-7, in America.

Todd received his BS degree in Industrial Engineering from Auburn University in 1984. After graduation he began his career as a Manufacturing Engineer with Sperry Corporation in Huntsville.

While at Sperry, Todd assisted in designing the production process for automated marksmanship training systems and in 1985 was promoted to Program Administrator for various government contracts. Over the next two years Todd led the development and manufacture of a minesweeping subsystem for the U.S. Navy.

In 1987, Todd took advantage of a career opportunity with AVEX Electronics Inc., in Huntsville. At the time AVEX was a $100 million electronic control manufacturer.

Over the years, Todd has progressed professionally from Senior Program Administrator to Vice President of Technology and Business Development. In this time he has seen AVEX grow to an $800 million global electronics manufacturer with facilities in Asia, Europe and North America. Todd has been with AVEX for 11 years.

His career with AVEX has included positions as Senior Program Administrator, Program Manager, Sales Manager, Project Manager, Re-Engineering Team Manager, Director of Programs, Vice President/General Manager of Huntsville Operations and Vice President of North America Operations.

Todd is currently Vice President of Technology and Business Development. He was promoted to this position earlier this year to oversee the acquisition of additional AVEX manufacturing locations as well as the expansion of AVEX's Engineering Development Centers in New Hampshire, Dallas and Atlanta.

TWO VEHICLE CRASH KILLS ONE... An Elba man was killed and his wife was injured when his station wagon collided with a propane gas delivery truck. The crash occurred Monday afternoon at approximately 5:15 p.m. on AL Highway 87 South near Wise's Christmas Tree Farm. Killed in the wreck was Malcolm Pippin, 76, of 828 Washington Avenue, Elba, AL. He was pronounced dead at Elba General Hospital after he was extracted from the demolished vehicle and transported to Elba General Hospital by a unit of the Elba Rescue Squad. His wife, Doris Pippin, 60, was taken to Elba General Hospital by Coffee County EMS where she was admitted for observation. The driver of the Empire Propane delivery truck, Gary Turner, 30, of Enterprise, was not injured. Reportedly, both vehicles were traveling south when the Pippin vehicle's driver failed to see the truck preparing to make a left turn. The station wagon struck the rear of the gas truck and then left the roadway, traveling more than 250 yards through an open field and taking down several Christmas trees. The wreck is being investigated by Alabama State Trooper Jerry Allen, and Coffee County Coroner Marvin McIlwain, the District Attorney's Office and the Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences. An autopsy will be performed on Pippin by DFS to determine the cause of death. Assisting medical personnel at the scene was a unit from the Elba Fire Department. A unit from the Coffee County Sheriff's Department also responded to the accident scene.

Elba Post Office has new postmaster

by Marvin McIlwain, Editor

The Elba Post Office has a new Postmaster. After numerous changes and temporary postmasters have come and gone.

David Flippo, a native of Memphis, Tennessee, recently assumed duties as "head man" of the local post office and is settling in rather nicely.

He is no newcomer to the U. S. Postal Service, having more than 20 years of experience; he started out as a letter carrier in 1976.

Flippo "carried mail" until 1985 when he went into management with the Postal Service. Since that time he has held various management positions trying to learn as much about the service as possible. He has gone wherever he was needed.

"I have purposely moved around a lot trying to gain the experience in the various things in the postal service," he said.

David has held several positions in a number of different locations in Tennessee and also worked in the state of Mississippi prior to coming to Elba. His last assignment before coming to Elba was in Cordova, TN where he served as "officer-in-charge."

This is the first postmaster's job that David has applied for, and feels that his past experience has prepared him for the job.

"I have made the Postal Service my life," said Flippo. "It's something I really enjoy doing."

David's plans are to move to Elba as soon as possible and make this his home.
